Statement of Significance

Last updated on - January 29, 1997

The two gas lamps outside Craig's hotel, Ballarat, probably erected in the 1890s, are constructed in cast iron and glass with the name "Craig's Royal Hotel" incorporated into the design.

The gas lamps demonstrate outstanding craftsmanship in decoration through their elaborate metalwork and finials in the form of crowns.

The gas lamps are intact and rare examples of privately funded lighting erected in a public thoroughfare.

The gas lamps have a strong relationship with Craig's Hotel, a hotel of great architectural and historical significance.

Permit Exemptions

General Exemptions:

General exemptions apply to all places and objects included in the Victorian Heritage Register (VHR). General exemptions have been designed to allow everyday activities, maintenance and changes to your property, which don't harm its cultural heritage significance, to proceed without the need to obtain approvals under the Heritage Act 2017.

Places of worship: In some circumstances, you can alter a place of worship to accommodate religious practices without a permit, but you must notify the Executive Director of Heritage Victoria before you start the works or activities at least 20 business days before the works or activities are to commence.

Subdivision/consolidation: Permit exemptions exist for some subdivisions and consolidations. If the subdivision or consolidation is in accordance with a planning permit granted under Part 4 of the Planning and Environment Act 1987 and the application for the planning permit was referred to the Executive Director of Heritage Victoria as a determining referral authority, a permit is not required.

Specific exemptions may also apply to your registered place or object. If applicable, these are listed below.

Specific exemptions are tailored to the conservation and management needs of an individual registered place or object and set out works and activities that are exempt from the requirements of a permit. Specific exemptions prevail if they conflict with general exemptions.
