STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The former Bell and Son bakery was most probably erected in 1960 for Thomas Bell to a modest conservative classical design by Geelong Architect Christopher Porter. This stuccoed masonry building with disciplined classically derived facade, parapet and fenestration is most notable for the timber shop fronts which are preserved intact. The establishment is representative of a popular style freely adopted for commercial premises in Victorian towns in the 1860's and of which relatively few examples survive unaltered in the Geelong region.
