
Quercus robur

T12291 Quercus robur

T12291 Quercus robur

Location

18 St Helier's Street,, ABBOTSFORD VIC 3067 - Property No T12291

Municipality

YARRA CITY

Level of significance

Regional

Heritage Listing

National Trust

Statement of Significance

Last updated on - July 21, 2016

Outstanding species (Scientific)

Location/Context (Social)

Landscape (Social)

This outstanding example of Quercus robur is one of the largest to be registered. It is the tallest recorded English Oak in Melbourne or any other urban location in Victoria, and is only surpassed by those in rural locales. It is believed to have been planted by the Good Shepherd nuns around 1920 and its healthy state offers aesthetic value contributing to the surrounding environment, especially in the attractive surrounds of the convent farm. Located close to the Yarra River it can be easily viewed from the Capital City Trail.

Measurements: 06/12/2014
Circumference (m): 4.5
Height (m): 26.5
Canopy Spread (m); N-S 26.2; E-W 30.1
Estimated Age (yrs):
Condition; Good

Access: Restricted
Classified: 27/04/2015

Heritage Act Categories Registered place,

Other Names English Oak,

Hermes Number 197540

Property Number

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>