Statement of Significance

Last updated on - August 12, 2004

The Victorian vernacular style of the house at 11 Inglewood Road suggests that it was constructed in the second half of the 19th century.

The house at 11 Inglewood Road is historically and architecturally significant at a LOCAL level. It is associated with residential developments in St. Arnaud in the second half of the 19th century. The house also demonstrates original design qualities of a Victorian vernacular style. These qualities include the single storey height, the hipped roof form and the return bull nosed verandah. Other intact or appropriate qualities include the rendered mud brick (the front section) and horizontal weatherboard (the rear section) wall construction, the corrugated roof cladding, the partly unpainted brick chimneys, the timber framed double hung windows symmetrically arranged about a central doorway (on the main facade), and the square timber verandah columns.

Overall, the house at 11 Inglewood Road is of LOCAL significance
