Physical Description 1

Veterans Description for Public

The Point Danger War Memorial is a small stone cairn set within a large circular grassed area on the Torquay Foreshore. The memorial is also flanked by a gun from the Second World War and a flagpole. The cairn was erected by Torquay and District Ex-Servicemens Club in 1950. It includes plaques for the First and Second World Wars, Korea, Malaysia and Vietnam.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
