
Geelong Army Drill Hall (1930s)

Location

Bellarine Street, Geelong, GREATER GEELONG CITY

Municipality

GREATER GEELONG CITY

Level of significance

-

Heritage Listing

Vic. War Heritage Inventory

Construction dates 1930,

Hermes Number 126284

Property Number

Physical Description 1

1930s brick drill hall, interesting curved roof form.

Historical Australian Themes

Providing administrative structures and authorities - defence

Usage/Former Usage

37 Medium Battery

Veterans Description for Public

The Geelong Army Drill Hall, on Bellarine Street, was built in the 1930s for the Light Anti-Aircraft Artillery. After 1918 no new drill halls were constructed until the mid to late 1930s, when the political situation in both Europe and Asia began to deteriorate rapidly. From 1935 there was an increasing budget for defence. This was reflected in a revival of citizen forces with a commensurate building program. Drill halls built in this period were individually designed and constructed in red brick. All the designs were by the Commonwealth architect George Hallendal.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>