STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

A characteristic Edwardian timber house built in 1907. It has an interesting verandah valence incorporating eclectic design motifs.

It is architecturally significant locally in demonstrating eclecticism in decoration of the Edwardian style and as one of a relatively intact and most varied group of 12 in Aberdeen Street.

It is historically significant locally as a representative embodiment of the way of life of the Edwardian period in Newtown.

Intactness: There are French windows under the gable. There is an inappropriate solid brick and mock wrought iron pedestrian gate.

Conditions & Threats: Excellent. Traffic vibration and pollution.

Physical Description 1

An elevated triple fronted Edwardian house, with a hipped roof. Left side rear and right hand front bays project as gables, with the verandah around the angle. There is a decorative fretwork rail valence and unusual brackets with arches at the corners and gable posts with grooved bands and fluting and a balustrade. The upper gable jetties on brackets with mock shingles. At corners are triple posts on brick piers.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
