Statement of Significance

Last updated on - January 1, 1935

What is significant?

The Russell Manufacturing Company Pty Ltd (later Repco) building at 81-95 Burnley Street, Richmond is significant to the extent of the pre-1945 fabric. Built in stages for the Russell Manufacturing Company Pty Ltd, the brick (overpainted) building has a strong Moderne styling, with horizontal banding on the main elevations.

Post-1945 alterations and additions to the building are not significant.

How is it significant?

The Russell Manufacturing Company Pty Ltd (later Repco) building is aesthetically and historically significant to the locality of Richmond and the City of Yarra.

Why is it significant?

The Russell Manufacturing Company Pty Ltd (later Repco) building is aesthetically significant (Criterion E):

- . for its strong Moderne styling as ideally presented on a corner site.
- . for the relationship with the significant Moderne style former Repco Building at 26 Doonside Street (HO256).

The Russell Manufacturing Company Pty Ltd (later Repco) building is historically significant (Criteria A & H):

- . as tangible evidence of the large factories built during the interwar period when Richmond became a centre of manufacturing in Victoria.
- . for the association with the successful motor spare parts firm of Russell Manufacturing Company Pty Ltd.

Physical Description 1

With its strong Moderne styling, the building is a dominant presence on the corner and well-preserved apart from the painted brickwork. Horizontals are underscored by the streamlining down both main elevations, achieved in cement and brick banding. It relates to the other Repco building in Doonside Street (HO256) and the former Jex building directly opposite on the north corner of Doonside Street.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
