Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

The State School known as Essendon North no. 4015 at 112 Keilor Road, Essendon North, was opened in 1920 and extended in 1924, 1928 and at later times to the designs of the Victorian Public Works Department. It is historically important (Criterion A) as the centre of State Education in the locality since that time and is a utilitarian example of the Department's work using the courtyard plan, comparable with Essendon (1912), Bendigo High School (1913-14) and Castlemaine High School (1918).

Physical Description 1

A hip roofed single storeyed Arts and Crafts influenced red brick Government school, U shaped on plan to enclose a north facing playground. The facade has a cartouche in cement reading "Essendon North No. 4015", and the office with Arts and Crafts influenced porch projects at the south east corner. The eaves are raked and the large classroom windows have glazing bars whilst chimney stacks are prominent elements in an otherwise understated design.
