Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

Merridale House is of local architectural and historical significance. The house is prominently sited and has unusual detailing. It is also among the municipality's best examples of the Federation style and has associations with the important local Stott family, Walter Stott being a successful real estate agent.

Physical Description 1

Merridale is a Queen Anne or Federation style house, comparable to other buildings in Northcote such as Mandalay and Lugano (qv). Characteristics include the asymmetrical massing, gabled projections, red brick work with contrasting roughcast render and lead lighted windows. The gable ends and balustrading to the attic are clad with shingles. The front verandah is supported on Tuscan cement columns. Distinctive timber butterfly wing brackets decorate the attic balcony posts, and gargoyles are located on the apexes of the gables. Alterations include the replacement of the original roof tiles with black glazed tiles and the removal of the front fence.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
