
Oak tree (Trenowin & former orchard)

Trenowin and former orchard

Trenowin and former orchard

Location

83 and 85 Lambert DIAMOND CREEK, NILLUMBIK SHIRE

Municipality

NILLUMBIK SHIRE

Level of significance

Included in Heritage Overlay

Heritage Overlay Numbers

HO176

Heritage Listing

Nillumbik Shire

Statement of Significance

Last updated on - January 1, 2000

The Trenowin house and orchard site is of regional significance

- for its association with the development of the local fruit-growing industry within the Shire from the 1890;
- for its long association with the pioneering Lawrey family, especially with John Lawrey who was a prominent orchardist and grower of the Trenowin plum

- for its good and early representation of a type, including the house and farm setting, as compared within the Shire.

- for the house and setting's now rare combination of age and type, within the Shire.

NILLUMBIK STUDY EXTENT OF DESIGNATION:

Trenowin farm complex and former orchard, with emphasis on 19th century and lesser emphasis on fabric from the Lawrey tenure (until the 1950s) and land within the current title.

Heritage Study/Consultant Nillumbik - Nillumbik Shire Heritage Study, Graeme Butler & Assoc, 1997;

Hermes Number 64024

Property Number

Physical Description 1

This was formerly John Lawrey's weatherboarded hipped roof farm house with a corrugated iron roof and cast-iron verandah, sited overlooking the creek in a traditional rural setting. This setting includes Monterey cypress and pines, a mature oak (?), exotic grasslands and Hawthorn hedge remnants along fence lines -all visible from the Diamond Creek Road, and extending to the picturesque hill west of the house site. Across Stone Street, east of the house, is the start of recent residential development.

Inspection 2000

The above inspection was 'conducted from outside of the property but some further elements were identified.

At the west end of the property on the Sawpit Gully Creek is the remains of a rustic bridge which served a former farm track, some terracing and a small dam on the creek thought to have been associated with gold mining { M Spencer, 2000}. Near here are some fruit trees (quince?). It was also noted that the 'picturesque hill' cited in the above description was not in the original Lawrey property. The large oak cited above is a good specimen and there are reputedly other garden elements from earlier layouts.

Historical Australian Themes

Farming

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>