Statement of Significance

Last updated on - April 8, 2008

This pair were formally identical but No. 204 has been remodelled. No. 206 still displays the turn of the century decoration on its upper floor. The pair were constructed in 1901 of face brick with plaster decoration. Although altered, the retention of this pair is important to the character of Chinatown as they still illustrate the typical shop and dwelling once common in the area.
