
Ornamental Tram Poles

B6437 Ornamental Tram Poles

Location

Dandenong Road,, CAULFIELD NORTH VIC 3161 - Property No B6437

Municipality

GLEN EIRA CITY

Level of significance

State

Victorian Heritage Register (VHR) Number

H1023

Heritage Listing

National Trust

Statement of Significance

Last updated on - April 19, 2005

The ornamental tram poles in the median strip of Dandenong Road are the oldest and the most ornate of the remaining tram poles in Melbourne. Erected by the Prahran & Malvern Tramways Trust when their network was extended down Dandenong Road in 1911, they are also one of the major remnants of the many independent suburban electric systems that operated before the formation of the Melbourne & Metropolitan Tramways Board in 1922. The tram poles are also considered to enhance one of Melbourne's great tree-lined boulevards, which is further enhanced by W-Class Trams, contemporary tram shelters, and many early twentieth century houses and flats.

Classified: 21/04/1993

See also B6438 Melbourne & Metropolitan Tramways Board, Fitzroy Street, Peel Street, Victoria Parade Poles.

Hermes Number 65573

Property Number

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>