Statement of Significance

Last updated on - May 20, 2004

A coarse but striking picturesque church of 1901 by the local engineer and architect A E Castles, the boldness of which derives from the elevation of the nave above a Sunday School, requiring access by an impressive flight of stairs; the projection of the polygonal organ chamber on the north side; the stepped buttresses; the machicolated and embattled capping of the tower; the steep and ornamentally slated octagonal spire; the corbie steeping of the major and the minor gables; the contrast of the brick carcass with cement dressings and glazed tilework; and the conspicuousness of the building in the flat terrain of Echuca. The use of brickwork, and especially the steeped corbels, indicate the continuing influence in the locality of the Bendigo architect W C Vahland.
