Last updated on - August 19, 2020

What is significant?

896-898 Swanston Street, Carlton, a freestanding townhouse in the conservative classical style (interiors and exteriors) with nineteenth and twentieth century extensions and its garden setting containing mature mulberry and pomegranate trees.

How is it significant?

Criterion A: Importance to the course, or pattern, of Victoria's cultural history.

Criterion D: Importance in demonstrating the principal characteristics of a class of cultural places and objects.

Criterion E: Importance in exhibiting particular aesthetic characteristics.

Why is it significant?

896-898 Swanston Street, Carlton is of historical significance as an example of very early development in this part of Carlton. As the land north of Grattan Street extending to Palmerston Street was subdivided in the 1860s, 896-898 Swanston Street, Carlton is one of the earliest built in the area. (Criterion A)

It is notable for its comparatively large block and freestanding character reflecting the early stages of residential development in Melbourne. (Criterion D)

896-898 Swanston Street, Carlton is of aesthetic significance for its intact Victorian interiors in the main residence built by Brown in 1868. These include marble fireplaces, staircase and built-in wooden cabinetry, constructed by William Faull of 699 Rathdowne Street, Carlton (Criterion E)

Permit Exemptions

General Exemptions:

General exemptions apply to all places and objects included in the Victorian Heritage Register (VHR). General exemptions have been designed to allow everyday activities, maintenance and changes to your property, which don't harm its cultural heritage significance, to proceed without the need to obtain approvals under the Heritage Act 2017.

Places of worship: In some circumstances, you can alter a place of worship to accommodate religious practices without a permit, but you must notify the Executive Director of Heritage Victoria before you start the works or activities at least 20 business days before the works or activities are to commence.

Subdivision/consolidation: Permit exemptions exist for some subdivisions and consolidations. If the subdivision or consolidation is in accordance with a planning permit granted under Part 4 of the Planning and Environment Act 1987 and the application for the planning permit was referred to the Executive Director of Heritage Victoria as a determining referral authority, a permit is not required.

Specific exemptions may also apply to your registered place or object. If applicable, these are listed below. Specific exemptions are tailored to the conservation and management needs of an individual registered place or object and set out works and activities that are exempt from the requirements of a permit. Specific exemptions prevail if they conflict with general exemptions.

Find out more about heritage permit exemptions here.

Specific Exemptions:

General Conditions All exempted alterations are to be planned and carried out in a manner which prevents damage to the fabric of 896-898 Swanston Street. Should it become apparent during further inspection or the carrying out of works that original or previously hidden or inaccessible details of 896-898 Swanston Street are revealed which relate to the significance of 896-898 Swanston Street, then the exemption covering such works shall cease and Heritage Victoria shall be notified as soon as possible. All works should ideally be informed by a Conservation Management Plan prepared for the place. The Executive Director is not bound by any Conservation Management Plan, and permits still must be obtained for works suggested in any Conservation Management Plan. Nothing in this determination prevents the Heritage Council from amending or rescinding all or any of the permit exemptions. Nothing in this determination exempts owners or their agents from the responsibility to seek relevant planning or building permits from the relevant responsible authority, where applicable.

Specific Permit Exemptions General Minor repairs and maintenance which replaces like with like. History

Contextual History:History of Place:

(From Nigel Lewis and Associates, "Lygon Street Action Plan Development Guidelines", p. 10)

The first parts of Carlton were laid out by Robert Hoddle in 1852 when he surveyed the area north of Victoria Street to Grattan Street and east of Elizabeth Street to Rathdowne Street. The area was planned as an extension of the city. A park, known as Carlton Gardens, was established on the eastern boundary of Rathdown Street. It is from these gardens that the suburb gets its name.

By 1857 all the subdivided allotments in the area bounded by Rathdowne, Victoria, Grattan and Madeleine (Swanston) Streets had been sold. The area north of Grattan Street extending to Palmerston Street was subdivided in the early 1860s.
