Heritage Victoria

The Shop and Residence at No. 13 Brunswick Street is a mannered two-storey brick building erected in 1892 as a chemist shop with upstairs residence for James MacInerny, a pharmacist. The three-bay facade has a pier and stilted segmental arch system with superimposed rusticated pilasters on the ground floor. The first floor has Corinthian pilasters. Pediments are visible above the main entrance, the first-floor windows and the parapet.
