History

Heritage Inventory History of Site: The site was probably a short-lived gold mining area from the late 19th century. As such, it is unusual this close to Melbourne. A considerable amount of gold prospecting was conducted in the eastern suburbs during the latter half of the 19th century, but little evidence survives. This may be the closest mine to Melbourne.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
