History

Heritage Inventory History of Site: The rush for gold in the alluvial fields of the Jordan River began in 1861. Red jacket was a town that grew from this rush. It became a substantial community, having its own school from 1871 to 1899. All that remains is the Post Office chimney and the cemetery. Most of the other building were destroyed in the 1939 bushfires.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
