The house at 8 Inglewood Road St Arnaud is at a short setback from the street boundary on a relatively flat site with a wide side garden. The front fence is timber framed with square wire attached.

The single storey house has a front longitudinal gable section at the front with a skillion roofed section behind. The roof has no eaves. The house has a hipped, straight pitched verandah springing from just under the eaves line. The roofs are clad in corrugated steel. There is a large, face brick chimney at one gable end. This has stepped corbelled brick bands near the top. A second external chimney is located along the side of the skillion roofed section.

The walls are of painted brick for the gable roofed section with the walls of the skillion section clad in weatherboards.
