Physical Description 1

The house at 17 Main Street, Stawell, is set on an average sized allotment for the area, and has a typical front setback. The front comprises an open grassed area with perimeter garden beds and shrubbery. There is an introduced skillion carport at the side. The front is bound by an introduced open timber paling fence, approximately 1300 mm high.

The asymmetrical, single storey, horizontal timber weatherboard, Late Victorian styled house is characterised by a hipped roof form that traverses the site, together with a rear hipped roof that projects at the side, and a minor hipped roof that projects towards the street frontage. There is also early return bullnosed verandah. These roof forms are clad in galvanised corrugated iron. Three early rendered brick chimneys with projecting tops adorn the roofline. Narrow overhangs with timber brackets and rectangular timber panels are features of the eaves.

The return verandah is supported by early stop chamfered timber columns having projecting moulded capitals. The cast iron-like verandah brackets provide decoration.

Other early features of the design include the timber framed tripartite windows, timber framed and the doorway with sidelights. The window hoods may have been introduced.
