Statement of Significance

Last updated on - August 27, 2004

The house at 44 Smith Street, Stawell, is of aesthetic significance at a CONTRIBUTORY level in the Stawell Seaby Street precinct. The building retains qualities of a characteristic Victorian timber house. These qualities include the hipped M form roof clad in corrugated steel, the face brick chimney with corbelled brick decorative banding, the square edged timber wall cladding, the central entry door, the flanking tripartite windows with central double hung timber windows and sidelights.
