Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

The ANZ Bank, 44 Percy Street, was erected for the Union Bank in 1855 - 56. The architect was John Barrow. The double storey stone structure is simply composed with the central ground floor entrance enclosed in a doric porch and flanked by venetian windows. The building is one of the most important buildings of its type in the State and a fine example of the work of John Barrow and the local stonemason craftsmen.
