Statement of Significance

Last updated on - August 27, 2004

These chock and log sheepyards were constructed early in the 20th century and are in comparatively good condition. The structure indicates the uses of the forest land in the area for agricultural purposes. It is of importance for its potential to provide information that contributes to a greater understanding of the history of the settlement and establishment of the district, and has a strong presumption of archaeological research potential. Further historical research and archaeological investigation is recommended.
