Physical Description 1

This former house and stables, of bluestone, were reconstructed in 1974 and therefore the originality of many details is questioned as the state of the buildings prior to reconstruction is unknown. The building, as it now stands, is a pleasantly proportioned bluestone house with cast iron verandah and one of the few domestic bluestone buildings surviving in Ballarat. The large stable building' at the rear of the house is notable for its size.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
