
Pioneer Women's Avenue (Part of Road Reserve)

Pioneer Womens Avenue

Pioneer Womens Avenue

Location

Main Street (Clarinda Street to water tank east of Halletts Way) BACCHUS MARSH, MOORABOOL SHIRE

Municipality

MOORABOOL SHIRE

Level of significance

Included in Heritage Overlay

Heritage Overlay Numbers

HO97

Heritage Listing

Moorabool Shire

Statement of Significance

Last updated on - June 1, 1995

A remnant memorial avenue of 15-17 English ash trees commemorating the pioneer women of the district, planted in 1936, in Main Street west of the town, paid for by public subscription.

Heritage Study/Consultant	Moorabool - Bacchus Marsh Heritage Study 1995, Richard Peterson and Daniel Catrice, 1995;
Hermes Number	124325
Property Number

Physical Description 1

Only about 15-17 trees survive in avenue formation between the water tank and Clarinda Street. There are about six on the north side of Bacchus Marsh Road and about eleven on the south side. Two of these form a second line indicating that the avenue may have been double, at least on the south side. There are no plaques or other identification.

Historical Australian Themes

Townships / Commemorating

Physical Conditions

CONDITIONS & THREATS: Fair. The trees do not appear to be robust and could be threatened by pollution or roadworks.

Intactness

INTACTNESS: Fair. Only a fragment of the former avenue survives. Plaques have been removed.

Usage/Former Usage

USE: Memorial avenue.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>