History

Present owner says that early house was located approx. where present house is now. Early materials re-used to build current house in early-20th C. Dairy is largely subterranean and was buried/filled in by present owners. It is well-preserved. The 'chimney' at the N end of the dairy was to vent hot air from the structure. There were formerly stables just to the E of the dairy. Probably dates to 1860s-1870s.
