
HMAS Lonsdale Drill Hall

Location

Rouse Street, Port Melbourne, PORT PHILLIP CITY

Municipality

PORT PHILLIP CITY

Level of significance

-

Heritage Listing

Vic. War Heritage Inventory

Construction dates 1941,

Hermes Number 126102

Property Number

Physical Description 1

WW 2 brick drill hall

Historical Australian Themes

Providing administrative structures and authorities - defence

Usage/Former Usage

Demolished

Veterans Description for Public

The HMAS Lonsdale Drill Hall was built on a site compulsorily acquired from the Melbourne Harbour Trust on April 3rd 1941. During the Second World War, economy and speed of construction were the primary concerns. Accordingly, drill halls of this period returned to designs similar to the First World War but were built of weatherboard with corrugated asbestos cement roof. The one exception is HMAS Lonsdale which is of unique design in brick with tall west facing windows (the building is now empty). The only remaining timber example is used as a scout hall in Red Cliffs near Mildura. The site was demolished sometime between 1995 - 1999 and is now used for housing.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>