Veterans Description for Public

In 1923, the Shires of Borough and Wangaratta jointly erected a monument in the memorial gardens on Ovens and Docker Streets, to commemorate seventy-seven district servicemen who died in the First World War. The monument is a polished granite column surmounted by a globe and standing on a granite plinth. Subsequently two panels have been added to commemorate twenty- eight local soldiers who died in the Second World War, and two local soldiers who died in the Vietnam War. It was designed by Arthur Rundle & James McLeod and unveiled by Colonel Scott, a former Borough engineer. It stands next to a memorial dedicated to the Boer War.
