
EAST LOUGHNAN AND REEVE BUILDING AND WELL, TARRAVILLE

Location

REEVES STREET, TARRAVILLE , WELLINGTON SHIRE

Municipality

WELLINGTON SHIRE

Level of significance

Heritage Inventory Site

Heritage Inventory (HI) Number

H8220-0014

Heritage Listing

Victorian Heritage Inventory

Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

Significant as part of the original pre-1860's settlement of Reeve's special survey.

Interpretation of Site	The mound is the accumulation of brick footings and debris in and around one of the early structures in the survey. The hand-made bricks lining the well strongly suggest that the well is associated with the shop.
Hermes Number	14074
Property Number

History

Reeve's special survey was granted in 1841 and laid out in 1843. The history of this specific site in the earliest period of settlement is currently unknown. Butler's 1866 directory (not an entirely reliable source) suggests that in that year four to five structures existed between the Freemason's Arms (immediately south of Stawell Street) and Martha Crains house/shop (immediately south of The Commercial Inn). These included an ostler, a carrier, a boarding school/schoolhouse and a store. However the precise relationship of these with the present site and the sites pre-1866 history remains a matter of conjecture for the time being.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>