STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

CITATION FROM GRC - Historic Places Documentation Sheet

'Wimmera' a two storey stuccoed brick residence originally known as "Tamara" was erected in 1858-60 for John Honeychurch Down".

"Wimmera House" so named by William H Lloyd, a former Wimmera district miller following acquisition in 1883, is an important example of the work of celebrated architects Backhouse and Reynolds. This Notable Italianate design is eclipsed only by "Merchiston Hall" as their finest residential work of the period 1850-60 in Geelong. Removal of the east verandahs has impaired the overall effect of the design, however, the structure survives as an illustration of the nature of the Italianate tradition of the 1850's in Victoria.

The round-arched doorway has a finely moulded architrave which is simply emphasized by a keystone. The east elevation towards Corio bay has two flights of steps leading to paired Regency verandahs supported by three fine column windows above the balconettes featuring geometric chain moulding in their balustrades.
