Physical Description 1

"1626 High Street is part of a pair of small shops whose red brick facades are defined by pilasters and parapets in contrasting clinker brick. The shop fronts have been extensively modified but both retain their early form. 1626 is currently in use as news agency and agency for Australia post. Consequently, the brickwork exterior has been painted white, extensive signage has been applied and post office boxes occupy most of the shopfront"
