STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

A relatively plain characteristic symmetrical Italianate timber house built in 1875. It has an interesting eaves valance. It is architecturally significant locally as characteristic domestic Italianate and historically as embodying family life in Newtown in the 1870s. INTACTNESS The verandah may have been rebuilt including its base. It can now only be entered from the side. The fence is later and anachronistic. There is a small, generally appropriate skillion addition at right.

Physical Description 1

A double-fronted symmetrical timber Italianate house with a hipped roof. The hipped verandah has a cast-iron lace frieze over a rail with lace valance and brackets below, on Doric timber posts. The chimneys are bichromatic brick with brick moulds. Eaves have a shield shaped incised fretwork valance with a frieze of panels on ogee brackets. The front door is four-panelled with side and fan lights. It is all on a roughly curved, ashlar bluestone base.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
