Physical Description 1

DESCRIPTION

A triple-fronted Edwardian house with a high hipped roof. Left and right rear bays are set forward as gables. These have timbered upper sections and jetties on coved brackets. Under are ripple iron hipped roof window hoods, supported on unusual coved fretwork brackets with a triple window. The window projects on bullnosed brackets. There is a corner window and two unusual large broad windows with segmental heads.

A1 except the gable windows have particularly fine leadlighting, with a rural scene surrounded by gumleaves and nuts, with some Mackintosh influence. The entrance has glazing, panelled door with side and fanlights. The chimney is plain.

COMPARABLE ANALYSIS: The verandah brackets are similar to those at 33 Virginia Street.
