A Listed - State Significancance

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Number 10 NcNicol Street is one of very few buildings dating from the 1850's still remaining in the Little Scotland area. It derives considerable significance from its degree of intactness, and by being one of a pair of similar detached cottages. It is representative of the better quality of housing being built I Geelong West by the late 1850's. They are now of State significance.

DESCRIPTION

The double gabled form of 10 McNicol Street is representative of the earliest building form in Geelong West. The slate roof and brick walls would have been considered at the time superior construction and it is in largely its original condition apart from the removal of architraves, skirting and some window joinery. The straight profile verandah with fine posts and simple timber fretwork appears to be original. The building derives considerable significance from its proximity to No 8 McNicol Street, a building of similar age and detailing.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
