History

In 1855, tenders were called for by the Council to build a toll house and gate at the new Wangaratta Bridge at Murphy Street. In 1864, the Borough Council took over the collection and it remained in use until 31st December 1873 when it became free to traffic. The toll house remained until the early 20th century and was then demolished.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
