Memorial Window Description & History

In July 1919, the Trustees of the Lydiard Street church launched an appeal for a permanent memorial to the men who 'responded to the call in the hour of dark need' and the Reverend Wil Vawdon suggested that one window should honour the men who died. Preliminary sketches of subjects suggested by Reverend Vawdon were drawn up by one of the teachers at the Ballarat School of Mines, Miss Amalie Feild, for a £75 fee. The Trustees then called for tenders to make and install the windows, to be known as the Peace, Honor and Victory Memorial. The Principal of the Art School, Herbert H. Smith, recommended that Melbourne artist, William Montgomery's tender (£809, and not the cheapest) be accepted as the firm was considered 'likely to produce the most artistic and satisfactory job'. A late tender from FJ Tarrant of Sydney undercut this price considerably and the interstate tender was accepted. After several problems along the way, the window was unveiled by Senator HW Elliott DSO, CBCMG, DCM, on 5 December 1920.

The two central lights of the window contained a list of the names of the men- Angel of Mons window: A.H. Briant A. Bremer H. Bennett G. Bishop O. Cornell P.E. Coltman C.S. Coltman MC S. Close A.H.
