STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

306 Moorabool Street has architectural and historic significance at a local level. It is representative and substantially intact example of a brick Bungalow, a common housing type in Geelong early this century. The residence retains characteristic form, siting and a large gable roof hipped above the attic storey, as well as some Federation Bungalow details. It has historical association with John O'Brien who occupied the address for over twenty years.

Description

306 Moorabool Street is a substantially intact Bungalow brick residence. The main feature of the building is a large gable roof hipped above the attic storey window and clad with terracotta tiles. A simple chimney projects from the ridge of the roof. The facade has large decorative timber brackets, and an entrance portico with masonry piers and painted brick details. The double hung casement windows at the side of the house feature lead light glazing, while on the front facade an aluminium framed window has replaced the original. The red brick pier and iron fence at the front of the house is a later addition.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
