Statement of Significance

Last updated on - January 1, 1900

The cottage was likely constructed during the first decade of the 1900s when the Chirnsides subdivided their larger landholdings as part of the Closer Settlement Scheme. The property changed hands a number of times during the twentieth century: J. P. Chirnside sold the property to R. Rodgers, who then leased the property to Michael Galvin. John Hanley is known to have been a tenant farmer, Leslie Francis Munckton also held the property until the mid-1940s.

The house, although in bad condition, remained occupied in 2011; it was demolished c. 2012.
