Statement of Significance

Last updated on - January 1, 1900

What is significant?

This Lemon-scented Gum grows on the median strip in a suburban street and exhibits rare growth characteristics.

How is it significant?

This Lemon-scented Gum is significant for aesthetic reasons at the Regional level.

Why is it significant?

This Lemon-scented gum exhibits a curious growth form. The species typically has a smooth trunk, but this specimen is deeply wrinkled.

The cause of this growth form is not known - it is theorised to either be caused by genetic variation, or thigmotropism (plant response to mechanical stimuli) during the initial growth phase. This specimen is very unusual and is growing in a relatively hostile environment.
