
Quercus robur

oak5

oak6

oak1

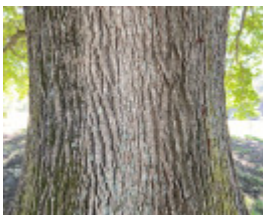

oak3

oak 2

oak7

oak4

Location

84 Morgantis Road Eganstown, HEPBURN SHIRE

Municipality

HEPBURN SHIRE

Level of significance

State

Heritage Listing

National Trust

Statement of Significance

Last updated on - December 8, 2021

What is significant?

This English Oak grows on a rural property in Eganstown. It was planted around 1860 by the Morganti family, who were prominent Swiss Italian migrants to the area. Several original buildings remain on the property.

How is it significant?

This English Oak is significant for scientific, aesthetic and social reasons at the State level.

Why is it significant?

This English Oak is significant as an outstanding example of the species. It is exceptionally well structured and symmetrical, and is the tallest English Oak in the Significant Tree Register. It makes a significant contribution to the rural landscape as a focal point amongst the paddocks, adding greatly to the bucolic setting.

Tree Measurements:

Condition: Good

Tree Type: Individual

Circumference: 4.5m

Height: 35m

Canopy Spread: 35m

Height method: Folded paper

Circumference method: Tape measure

Date of measurement: 01/03/2021

Age of tree: 160 years (planted approx. 1860)

Other Names English Oak,

Hermes Number 208333

Property Number

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online <http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/>