Statement of Significance

Last updated on - January 10, 2024

What is significant?

The Carnegie Residential Precinct includes some of the land in the north-west corner of the suburb that is broadly bound by McPherson Avenue (to the north), Grange Road (west), Neerim Road (south), and Cosy Gum/Mile End/Mimosa roads (east). It consists exclusively of residential buildings. The following elements contribute to the significance of the area:

- Dwellings mainly dating to the Federation period with some dating to the Interwar period,
- The Federation period buildings are typically clad in weatherboards and have a main gambrel roof clad in corrugated sheet metal with a front gable end,
- The Interwar period buildings are either timber-framed or masonry (brick and/or render) with gabled or hipped roofs with tiling (un/glazed terracotta, some concrete), generally masonry porches,
- Original detailing to gable ends including shingles, battens and sheeting (roughcast or smooth),
- Original chimneys, usually red brick, some with rendered elements,
- Intact walls with cladding (usually weatherboards, but also shiplap, ashlar boarding etc.),
- Intact walls with face brick (red, clinker, tapestry) and/or rendered (roughcast and smooth finishes),
- Intact timber openings – windows and doors. Some windows have multi-pane sashes, stained glass and/or leadlight,
- Original or sympathetic timber picket fencing or timber-framed with wire mesh, some original low masonry fences,
- Basalt kerbing and channelling, and
- Street planting, primarily south side of Craigavad Street.

How is it significant?

The Carnegie Residential Precinct is of local historical and representative significance to the City of Glen Eira.

Why is it significant?

The Carnegie Residential Precinct is of historical significance for the ability of its built form to illustrate the main phase of middle-class development during the early 20th century in Carnegie. Although some subdivision had occurred during the late 19th century with only limited development, there was a surge in building activity during the Federation period. This continued to a lesser degree during the Interwar period. As such, the precinct reflects the initial consolidation of Carnegie's suburban identity (which is considerably erased in other parts). The consistency of particular (types of) detailing in certain streets also demonstrates speculative builders at work. (Criterion A)

The Carnegie Residential Precinct is of representative significance as containing several, largely intact streetscapes, whose original subdivision pattern is apparent. The housing stock predominantly consists of economic versions of Queen Anne style villas that are timber-framed with corrugated metal clad roofs and an array of decorative detailing. There is also some complementary housing dating to the Interwar period with a higher preponderance of brick dwellings and/or tile clad roofing. Recurrent detailing is apparent, suggesting the hand of certain (local) builders. (Criterion D)
