STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

'Toorang' a single storey Italianate Style Villa on the shores of Lake Connewaree was probably erected for Laurence Ryland in the 1850's as a 7 room rubble stone structure with timber shingle roof and square observation tower. Dr Alexander James Campbell, Presbyterian clergyman, theologian and writer of tourist guides lived in Toorang until 1893. Campbell was influential in establishing educational colleges for the Presbyterian Church including Geelong College and Ormond College. Toorang is an early villa on the Bellarine Peninsula with a picturesque setting on Lake Connewarre with significant historical association with the development of the region.
