STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Homestead and Stables were built in 1887 for James Wilson Jnr., Son of James Wilson, pastoralist and bloodstock agent/breeder of St. Albans Homestead. The single storey room style homestead has been altered almost beyond recognition and is not part of this citation. The barn/stables is a double storey weatherboard roof building with clerestory lighting and vents to gable ends. The outbuildings and stable comprise a particularly harmonious and unique group of weatherboard buildings and have particular associations with the early thoroughbred industry.
