Darriwill Park House and Outbuildings

National Estate Register, 2003.

Location

Steiglitz Road BANNOCKBURN, Golden Plains Shire

Municipality GOLDEN PLAINS SHIRE

Level of significance

Included in Heritage Overlay

Heritage Overlay Numbers

HO17

Heritage Listing

Golden Plains Shire

Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

National Estate Register:

Darriwill at Moorabool was largely developed by Dr Robert Hope, an eminent Scottish surgeon, western district pastoralist, politician and flour milling entrepreneur. He was one of the first viticulturist in the western district and Darriwill was a celebrated vineyard. The stone homestead, enhanced with pronounced stone quoins, architraves and later iron verandah is characteristic of the work of architect J L Shaw and a notable example of mid-Victorian homestead architecture.

(The Commission is in the process of developing and/or upgrading official statements for places listed prior to 1991. The above data was mainly provided by the nominator and has not yet been revised by the Commission. National Trust: Of State signifiance.

Heritage Study/Consultant	Golden Plains - Golden Plains Shire Heritage Study Phase 1, Lorraine Huddle P/L, 2003;
Hermes Number	23511
Property Number

Physical Description 1

Acquired by brothers Robert, James and George Hope in 1845 and developed as a grazing property with extensive orchards and vineyards. The present axially planned single storey bluestone homestead was built for George Hope in the mid 1850s. This Victorian eclectic design was most probably designed by J L Shaw, a Geelong architect who designed the cellar and wine making house in 1863.

Integrity

Condition and Integrity:

Maintained in good condition. The interior has not been inspected.

Physical Description 2

National Trust:

CITATION

Darriwill, formerly known as Sutherland's Creek, was acquired by brothers Robert, James and George Hope in 1845 and developed as a grazing property with extensive orchards and vineyards. The present axially planned single storey bluestone homestead was built for George Hope in the mid 1850s. This Victorian eclectic design was most probably designed by J L Shaw, a Geelong architect who designed the cellar and wine making house in 1863.

Darriwill at Moorabool was largely developed by Dr Robert Hope, an eminent Scottish surgeon, Western District pastoralist, politician and flour milling entrepreneur. He was one of the first viticulurist in the Western District and Darriwill was a celebrated vineyard. The stone homestead, enhanced with pronounced stone quoins, architraves and later iron verandah is characteristic of the work of architect J L Shaw and a notable example of mid-Victorian homestead architecture.

Darriwill homestead is maintained in good condition. The interior has not been inspected. Of State signifiance.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.

For further details about Heritage Overlay places, contact the relevant local council or go to Planning Schemes Online http://planningschemes.dpcd.vic.gov.au/