What is significant?

The houses, built c.1890, at nos. 18 and 20 Davies Street, Moonee Ponds are significant. This is a two storeyed two dwelling terrace of the late Victorian Boom period with bichrome brickwork and a two storeyed cast iron verandah having tessellated tiled floors and paths. The party walls are extended as high brick fences to pillars at the property frontages where they are connected by double palisade iron fences on a bluestone base. Windows to the upper level are tall double hung sash, with large tripartite or 'Venetian' style windows in the ground floor.

The front doors have sidelights and highlights. The houses are in good condition and have a high degree of external integrity.

Non-original alterations and additions are not significant.

How is it significant?

The houses at nos. 18 and 20 Davies Street, Moonee Ponds are of local architectural and aesthetic significance to the City of Moonee Valley.

Why is it significant?

The houses are architecturally and aesthetically significant as well-detailed and very intact examples of late Victorian terrace houses.
