Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

Architecturally, near original and possessing some fine timber ornamentation and exemplifying the transition from the British inspired Queen Anne to the oriental influenced designs, particularly the later bungalows era; of regional importance.

Physical Description 1

A weatherboard Queen Anne style villa with bellied, half-timbered gables; multi-pane window bays, one with an octagonal tower over; Marseilles tiled, gabled and hipped roofs; and an intricately timbered return verandah which typically links the two gabled wings. The oriental influence is visible in the fine window glazing and the scrolled, match stick verandah ornament. Mature trees from the period all but obscure the house. (Compare with houses in the Riverview Est, precinct)

The fence is gone and colours changed, but otherwise near original externally.

Streetscape

Isolated in a diverse residential streetscape.
