Physical Description 1

106 Westbourne Grove is a single-storey double-fronted weatherboard house with a hipped corrugated iron roof. The bullnose roofed verandah is supported on turned timber posts and has an unusual cast-iron geometric patterned frieze. The eaves is bracketed. The partly glazed entrance door has sidelights and highlight, and is flanked by rectangular bays with casement windows. The gable at the centre of the verandah is roughcast and the weatherboard are shingle profiled to dado level.

The original capped picket fence appears to have been altered.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
