STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Hamilton Court House

15 Martin Street

This building, which replaced an earlier building on the site, ([i]) and was constructed by the Public Works Department in 1882-83, ([ii]) has regional significance as a key building in the administrative complex and for its architectural interest as one of the larger Western District Court Houses. With its picturesque massing and arcaded porch, the Hamilton Court House is comparable in style to the Maryborough and Castlemaine Court Houses (1877), designed by the office of John H Marsden, the PWD architect in charge of the Western District. Marsden's office also produced the Carlton Court House (with S E Bindley) in 1887, and, also with Bindley, the Dunolly, Collingwood and Elsternwick Post Offices (1890). The elaborate Geelong Post Office, also of 1890, was probably designed by J H Brabin. ([iii]) The building remains significantly intact and in excellent condition.
