Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

Larnook has State significance for architectural reasons, as a good example of an 1880s mansion house of the pre-boom period in Melbourne. It is typical of early mansion houses on large allotments on elevated sites built for affluent business and professional men and their families, which gave a distinctive character to residential areas in Toorak, parts of South Yarra and Armadale.

Physical Description 1

The elegant Italianate mansion Larnook has a protruding polygonal bay and cast iron veranda, both of two storeys. Its veranda columns are paired and, together with fine lacework in the balustrade, valence and brackets, embellish the facade. Eaves are supported on closely spaced decorative consoles around the residence and the corners of the building are quoined. Windows at the upper level feature arched heads, those below exhibit a slight curve only. The northern end of the veranda has been infilled on both levels. The designer and architect are unknown.
