Physical Description 1

The Box House is L-shaped in plan to provide a private court and swimming pool away from Heidelberg Road, and makes use of different floor levels on a flat site. Floor to ceiling glazing, in the form of double French doors in clear varnished hardwood, is set against clay coloured concrete masonry. Varnished hardwood lining to both the eaves and the walls continues the harmony of wood and clay colours, whilst the four slender tubular columns supporting the carport are picked out in white.
